

Free Listing
worth S$200*

HRMAsia.com is the number one site for reaching HR professionals.

Visit us at the HRM Booth to receive a FREE* HR job listing worth $200.

This offer is only available to visitors of the HR Summit Free Expo.

* Not transferable. Only one per organisation.

www.hrmasia.com

Lady luck beckons

Drop by booth 32 and be greeted by Lady Luck herself. Career Systems International will be giving away unique fortune cookies containing A-Z engagement and retention strategies written by Dr. Beverly Kaye, International Retention, Development, and Engagement Expert – as well as one of the HR Summit's headline speakers.

Visitors will also get to view video screenings of Kaye's talks on career development and talent retention. Also, be on the lookout for book draws happening during the afternoon breaks on both days.

Talent grows at the 'Job Garden'

Participants at this year's free HR Summit Expo can expect the usual deals, discounts, prizes and more. What they may not expect is a lush garden in the midst of traditional booths. Adecco's booth this year is a beautiful garden theme, complete with grass, watering cans and flowers.

Adecco's Job Garden will help interpret to visitors how the organisation has been helping talent to grow in the small garden city of Singapore. You can also take part in the Adecco Job Garden Game Show and stand a chance to win the new iPad2.

Adecco's Salary Guide 2011 and its new informative white paper, "Growing your talent base", will also be available from the booth.

Free Training Sessions start at 3:00 PM
each day

LinkedIn Offering a US$5,000 Prize

Professional social media networking site, LinkedIn will be having a business card draw for its Premium Pro account at the HR Summit 2011.

The raffle will take place at the LinkedIn booth number 33, at midday on the 27th of May. The winner of the draw will receive a 12-month upgrade to a Premium Pro account worth US$5,000.

Clinic sessions by NTUC LearningHub

Training centre, NTUC LearningHub (LHUB) will be offering free consultations to employers and employees at the HR Summit 2011 regarding the extended Workplace Safety and Health (WSH) Act, which will take effect from 1 September 2011.

The organisation will be setting up 'WSH Clinics' to offer HR personnel from across industries face-to-face advisory services regarding the Act. The clinic sessions will include information on the WSH Act, assessment of companies' risk at work, consultations on safety as well as information on NTUC Learning Hub's safety training programmes. You can visit NTUC LearningHub's booths 36 and 37 for the clinic sessions.

JobsCentral

Booth: 8

JobsCentral, has a "sure-win" Spin the Wheel game at its booth. Everyone will take away gifts such as JobsCentral bears, notebooks, post-it pads and pens. There will also be a lucky draw and one lucky winner who drops his/her name card at the booth will get to choose between the grand prize of a leather Prada bag or an Apple iPad 2. Second prize is a pair of tickets to Universal Studios Singapore while the third-prize winner will walk away with $100 worth of Takashimaya vouchers.

NTUC Income Insurance Cooperative

Booth: 52

Visitors to the NTUC Income booth will have the opportunity to learn more about employee benefits and how they can attract and retain key talents. Plus: try your hand at an Instant Dip and gain a chance to win a range of exciting prizes.

Community Chest

Booth: 80

Drop by the Community Chest booth and pick up tips on Community Social Responsibility (CSR) initiatives that your company can adopt including SHARE, their monthly workplace giving programme. It is a simple and consistent way for employees to help about 300,000 people in need through 158 critical social service programmes. Beneficiaries include:

- + Children with special needs and youths-at-risk
- + People with disabilities
- + Lonely and frail elderly
- + Families in difficulties

Crown Worldwide

Booth: 19

Visitors will be treated to a journey down Crown's memory lane where they will learn of how the organisation grew from a humble set-up to a multinational corporation today. Crown will be in a celebratory mood, giving presents to all who attend their "party"!

Crown will also bring visitors closer to its roots in Yokohama, Japan, by providing a book where visitors can write encouraging messages to the people of Japan. Crown will match every message in the book with a $1 donation. The book and money will be handed to the Japanese Red Cross Society.

LinkedIn Hiring Solutions

Booth: 33

Professional social media networking site, LinkedIn, will be having a business card draw for its Premium Pro account. The raffle will take place at midday on the 27th of May. The winner of the draw will receive a 12-month upgrade to a Premium Pro account worth US$5,000.

NTUC Learning Hub

Booth: 36 & 37

NTUC Learning Hub will be offering Workplace Safety & Health (WSH) mini-clinics and consultation sessions at their booth over the two-day summit regarding the extended Workplace Safety and Health (WSH) Act, which will take effect from 1 September 2011. HR Summit participants also get to enjoy 50% discounts on a list of Executive Education and Professional Development courses in Sales & Marketing, Financial Management, Human Capital Management, Strategic Management Skills and General Business Skills.

Adecco Personnel

Booth: 65

Adecco's booth this year is a beautiful garden theme, complete with grass, watering cans and flowers. Adecco's Job Garden will help interpret to visitors how the organisation has been helping talent to grow in the small garden city of Singapore! Visitors can also take part in the Adecco Job Garden Game Show and stand a chance to win a fantastic iPad2. Adecco's Salary Guide 2011 and its new informative white paper, "Growing your talent base", will also be available from the booth.

Achieve Group of Companies

Booth: 34

Swing by the Achieve Group booth and say 'Hi' to their friendly consultants who will give you a 'once-over' and introduce their attractive and adorable furry friends.

Citibank Singapore

Booth: 78

Visitors to this booth can collect a seminar survival kit, filled with essentials to help one get through the seminar days. These are limited to the first 100 HR Summit participants who visit the booth each day. Additionally, receive a welcome gift when you drop by the booth and stand a chance to win an attractive prize.

Cartus Corporation

Booth: 35

Learn from the latest trends and practices in mobility programmes and cultural challenges in China. Simply drop your business card and receive a complimentary copy of Destination: China – the Cartus China Inbound Pulse Survey. Also, have a go at the Spot the Difference contest and win free Cartus giveaways.

Career Systems International

Booth: 32

Drop by this booth and be greeted by Lady Luck herself. Career Systems International will be giving away unique fortune cookies containing A-Z engagement and retention strategies written by Dr. Beverly Kaye, International Retention, Development, and Engagement Expert.

Visitors will also get to view video screenings of Kaye's talks on career development and talent retention. Also, be on the lookout for book draws happening during the afternoon breaks on both days. Career Systems International will also be conducting a "What makes you stay" survey and delegates who participate will receive a specially autographed book by Kaye, while stocks last.

Adecco – Helping Grow Singapore's Talent Base

At HR Summit 2011, Adecco Singapore looks forward to welcoming you to the Adecco Job Garden – a lush environment where talent grows! For over 25 years, Adecco has helped thousands of Singaporeans to blossom. It's an achievement that the company is proud of, and that it will be celebrating with delegates that visit its Job Garden during the HR Summit.

Adecco too has blossomed to become Singapore's leading staffing services and human resource solutions firm. Today the company offers a network of conveniently located offices as well as niche professional staffing divisions, that help individuals find work in specialty areas – such as in banking or in the retail and hospitality sector.

As the world of work has changed in Singapore, so has Adecco and its ability to support companies in finding the right talent at the right time. The Singapore workforce of 2011 is more flexible and more adaptable, with employers always on the look out for talented individuals – whether to hire them as permanent employees, or on a temporary or contract basis.

Adecco consults with its clients to identify the right staffing arrangement that meets their needs. More and more companies today are choosing to outsource their staffing needs to Adecco and others welcome the opportunity to have an Adecco consultant located right in their office – allowing the management of staffing needs at all times throughout the day. It's this comprehensive understanding of strategic ways of working that has supported Adecco on its journey to becoming Singapore's leading provider of talent.

The Adecco Group in Singapore also includes Lee Hecht Harrison, Templar International Consultants and Spring Professional Staffing Asia. Lee Hecht Harrison offers leadership development, career management and outplacement services, while Templar International Consultants is the company's executive search arm, and Spring Professional Staffing Asia is an established leader in the global IT recruitment market. All three businesses complement the group offering, allowing Adecco to truly partner with its clients.

Adecco Singapore is part of the Zurich based Adecco Group, a Fortune Global 500 company with over 32,000 employees and more than 5,500 offices in over 60 countries and territories around the world. Globally, the group connects more than 700,000 associates with over 100,000 clients every day.

The company's tag-line is 'Better Work, Better Life' and our aim is to give everyone involved with Adecco the opportunity to improve their situation, be it at work, at home, in leisure activities or in life. The company seeks those motivated to make change and to help them to shape and achieve their personal and professional goals.

Adecco Singapore's General Staffing offices are conveniently located in Tampines, Jurong, Bishan and in the city on Scotts Road. The company's Professional Staffing offices offer positions in Banking, Engineering, Events & Exhibitions, Hospitality & Retail, Information Technology, Medical & Science, Technical and for Japanese speaking candidates. The company also offers executive search services in the medical and science sector under the brand name Templar Medical & Science.

+ For further information, please reference www.adecco.com.sg, www.lhh.com.sg, www.templarsearch.com, www.springstaffing.asia or see the company's own Singapore job blog at www.thesingaporejobblog.com

Take A Stroll In The Adecco Job Garden at HR Summit 2011

It's Where Talent Grows!

For over 25 years, Adecco has been helping to grow Singapore's talent base. A talent base that today supports the country's position as one of the world's leading economies.

Like flowers in a lush garden, talent takes time to grow and develop. Time and effort that Adecco understands well and that has allowed us to blossom into Singapore's leading staffing and human resources organisation.

Join us in the Adecco Job Garden at HR Summit, where you can play the Job Garden Game Show and be in with a chance to win a fantastic iPad 2. There will also be giveaways, informative white papers, the Adecco 2011 Salary Guide and a whole lot more.

So take a break during HR Summit and join us in the Adecco Job Garden for tea!

Adecco

better work, better life

www.adecco.com.sg